Eurodesk Malta Updates - Issue No. 13

Yesterday, the European Union Programmes Agency organised the last General Monitoring Meeting for current Youth in Action beneficiaries. This annual meeting helps beneficiaries with any problems that they might have on their ongoing projects.

In fact, yesterday's meeting was a great opportunity to share experiences and help one another in giving tips on how one should compile his or her final report. This was discussed during the two workshops organised by the YiA officers, that also tackled other topics such as programme management, Erasmus+ and DEOR.

This general monitoring meeting was addressed by the EUPA's National Coordinator, Mr. Robert Debono and the YiA Programme Manager Ms. Marvic Debono.

The European Union Programmes Agency would like to thank all those who attended yesterday's meeting. 😊

Since the year 2000, 12th August has been observed as the International Youth Day (IYD). This day was designated by the United Nations in 1999 with the adoption of Resolution 54/120. The theme chosen for this year is 'Youth and Mental Health' under the slogan 'Mental Health Matters'.

This day will bring youth issues to the attention of the international community and celebrate the potential of youth as partners in today's global society. It is also regarded as the annual opportunity to raise awareness of the challenges and hardships facing the world's youth.

On 12th August, Eurodesk together with the European Union Programmes Agency will be participating in this international day that is also going to be organised and celebrated locally, focusing on sports for all activities.

Are you interested in Youth Exchanges and voluntary service abroad?

In the coming weeks, the European Union Programmes Agency will be meeting various youth organisations so that through workshops, trainers will help the youth brainstorm and develop a number of ideas in order to be able to plan and fill in their own Erasmus+ application forms for the last deadline in October.

If you wish to register for any one-to-one information meetings in relation to the Erasmus+ programme ahead of the upcoming deadline, kindly send an email to communications.eupa@gov.mt or call on 25586130.
